CIVIC FEDERATIONISM.

The ideas represented by the Civic Federation are making their way all over the United States. Time was, especially during the slavery, civil war and reconstruction periods, when it was necessary to stand by one's party even in the smallest local contests for the sake of the common good. In those days party discipline was almost military in its strictness and it was easy for any man, however disreputable, to be elected providing he had first secured a regular nomination from a majority party. To this conunder the iniquities of Tweed, Sweeney, Connolly and Genet.

As vital questions of national patriotism were displaced in politics by questions of honest government, the Civic Federation idea began to spread. It is now so powerful that even Tammany cannot elect a mayor of its own stamp but must conceal itself behind the candidacy of good men like Mcplace in the Legislature, he assailed a corrupt Republican judge. Even where a civic reform movement seems to fail, its influence often compels a victorious enemy to be decent. But viewing such movements over periods of years one can descry very little failure indeed, for there is, on the whole, a steady advance towards better government. The Philadelphia Republican machine lately realized the strength of the reform sentiment of the party when it undertook to lease the gas business of the city to a private corporation for a term of 75 years. That lease was torn in pieces by an aroused party honesty which the bosses could not throttle or beat down. Chicago is feeling the strength of the common voter as opposed to the machine and, wherever one looks in the municipal field of the United States he sees that the sentiment which favors the choice of the best man is more promising of results than that which clamors for the straight ticket under any and all conditions and at any cost of self-respect.

Honolulu has shared in the spirit of civic patriotism more than she gets credit for among her own people. Not to go further back, it may be said that the choice of President Dole for Governor was brought about through the urgency of good citizens against the greed of politicians. Governor Dole, in a time of stress, was sustained by the same spirit. The overthrow of the rebber band which got into office here under Republican machine auspices is another instance. So is the destruction of the Home Rule party. The choice of George Carter for Governor when the machine wanted somebody else and the purification of the judiciary-both these achievements were backed and impelled by Civic Federation ideas, not less so because at that time there was no organization here of the name.

Today the call upon good citizens to elect honest and graftless men to office shows that Honolulu is still mindful of its duty and that it does not mean to fall behind the rest of the United States in its devotion to good government.

FEDERATION IN CHICAGO.

The Civic Federation principles and organization are new in Hawaii, but they are well established on the mainland, under various names. One of the oldest and most successful of these organizations is the "Municipal Voters" League" of Chicago. Its special work has been the elevation of the character of the City Council of Chicago. Ten or twelve years ago it was one of the most notorious and corrupt legislative bodies in the world. The great majority of its members were for sale. They were a pack of saloon-keepers of the lowest type, criminals and all-around grafters. They defied law, decency and the voters. They were so powerful that they controlled both the Republican and Democratic machines, and worked harmoniously, under cover, to loot the city and despoil the citizens.

Under these circumstances, nine years ago, a few determined men met and formed a purely voluntary association, which they called the "Municipal Voters' League," to try and remedy the situation.

They had little money, no organization, no patronage, and were few in numbers; but they went resolutely to work. They issued an announcement of the situation, stated their intention to try and remedy affairs, and asked good citizens to help them,

The "independent ticket" movement has seldom succeeded in the United es, and they did not undertake to run one. They simply took the several tickets nominated by the several parties, investigated the records of the nominees, and announced the result of their investigations, recommending for election the men whom they thought the best on the ticket.

They were greeted by a storm of ridicule and abuse; were called goody goodies, goo-goos, Pharisees, hypocrites, traitors, fools and the whole gamut of the yellow vocabulary, but they calmly went about their business, and for nine years they have been going about their business so effectively that today the City Council of Chicago has become, instead of one of the worst, one of the most honest and efficient city councils in the Union.

There has been a constantly growing body of citizens who distrust the political machines and who have found the league to be honest, temperate and the league.

At the municipal election held in Chicago last April thirty-six councilmen the league. The other ten were neither endorsed nor opposed.

Of the entire city council membership of seventy, more than fifty are the recent Legislature enacted. men who were endorsed by the league.

That the league is entirely non-partisan in its endorsements is evidenced by the fact that the council consists of thirty-seven Republicans, thirty-two Democrats and one Independent Republican.

The motto and policy of the league is, "May the best man win."

This principle of non-partisan support of the best men nominated, has a strong tendency to raise the standard of the nominees and to encourage good men to accept nominations. It is a policy which has been a winner in Chicago, and it will be a winner in Honolulu if it is properly handled.

THE NEW MILITIA SCHEME.

The Advertiser has objected to tthe support of the militia by the taxpayers on the grounds that our taxes are too high now, that the law provides for the suppression of disorder on these islands by United States forces en call of the Governor, and that the Federal power, having taken over the greater part of our public revenue and even our principal armory, has no reason to expect us to bear any part of the burden of military expenses.

But this argument does not apply to the support of the National Guard by private subscription. If the gentlemen composing the Chamber of Commerce want to keep up the citizen soldiery at private expense, only the most churlish of critics would oppose them. We could only wish that they would also maintain the band and subsidize the opera house. We shall not even suggest that they confine their benefactions to three militia companies, one here, one at Wailuku and one at Hilo. Private munificence should have no curb; and if the rich men of Hawati desire to provide this Territory with the luxury of a whole regiment, or brigade or division or army corps, it will simply mean so much more money put into circulation.

The native vote is standing by the Governor, whom it regards as the head of the party. It is not taking the side of his-factional enemies, whom it regards as malcontents in the party.

Somebody says that Sam Johnson is working for the straight ticket. So he is, but only for the straight part of it. The crocked part is trying to work Sam.

THE GOVERNOR ARRAIGNS BROWN.

The charges made by Governor Carter against A. M. Brown are of a very serious character. The facts behind them have led the Governor to the conclusion that, if Mr. Brown is elected Sheriff of Oahu County, his administradition of politics the Republicans owe the bad name they got during the ad- tion will be "weak, lawless and corrupt." Such an arraignment puts Mr. ministration of Grant and the Democrats the ignoble reputation they made Brown and his friends on the defensive; but they cannot meet it by mere yesterday. denials, by persiflage or by counter attacks. It is not a question of veracity between the Governor and the candidate for Sheriff alone. Common knowledge accepts the statement that, during the Brown administration of the offices of Marshal and High Sheriff, gambling places were wide open on the principal streets, illicit and illegal liquor clubs flourished, extravagance of living was rife in the police department, the babitual signs of graft, as they are recogideas; and the rise of Roosevelt to the Presidency began when, from his by the recollections of the public; and unless Mr. Brown makes a clear and convincing statement of his side of the case, he will fare very badly in the estimation of honest men.

> So far, Mr. Brown's friends have contented themselves with efforts to distract the mind of the public by minor issues. They are asking: Did Mr. by the Jiji states that the report of the Henry or did he not send a "662-grain" dispatch to San Francisco during the movement for the exclusion of Japan-Stanford inquiry? Was it wise or otherwise for him to ask the police how they intended to vote, thus taking a course distantly similar to Brown's when he told them how to vote? Why did not the Governor in the midst of his he told them how to vote? Why did, not the Governor in the midst of his gether with 300 of that nationality from examination of bills, in the final days of the legislative session, stop to point town, will celebrate the opening of a out the unwisdom of nominating Brown over Crabbe? All these are puerile new church and school erected for them issues intended merely to decoy the public eye from Brown, Chillingworth, McDuffie and Ah On, and from the crucial question of whether Brown or Henry has made the cleanest record as High Sheriff, and which of the two men would be likely to give the cleanest administration as Sheriff of Oahu.

The Governor has spoken. It is your turn, Mr. Brown.

MAY THE BEST MAN WIN.

The air is thick with personalities, charges and counter charges. Straight tickets, split tickets, Civic Federationists, Republicans, Independent Republicans, Judge Dole yesterday afternoon in his licans, Democrats, Home Rulers, Fusionists-the woods are full of them and their advocates.

What is the voter who is not a professional politician with inside information to do under the circumstances!

A clear-cut, logical, satisfying answer 1s, "Vote for the best men, re gardless of their party label."

When a man invests in a horse, it makes little difference what brand has been burned on the horse's hide, or whether he has been branded at all; but it does make a great difference whether the horse is of sound or broken wind; whether he is a steady worker or a bucking bronco; whether he is of a kind and gentle disposition or bites in the dark and kicks on the sly.

The functions of the county officers are to do business. Then let us elect business men who will do business on business principles.

The great majority of the voters of Honolulu want neither office nor patronage. They have no axes to grind and no grudges to even up. All they want is a square, honest, business administration.

How shall they get it?

By voting for the best men, regardless of whether they bear the Republican or any other brand or label, or no label at all.

What should a man's opinions on the United States tariff, or the regulation of railroad rates in New England, have to do with who he votes for as treasurer of the County of Oahu?

If Trent is the better man he should be elected, regardless of the fact that he is a Democrat. If Booth has the training, the education and the character that best fit him for the position, he should be elected, without regard to the fact that within a twelve-month he has branded himself as a Democrat, a Home Ruler, a Republican and a Pauca water lobbyist.

The presence of a party label in a municipal election is as false and absurd a division to make as would be the promulgation of a rule that only men avenue, Palolo tract, was sold at aucwith black eyes and yellow hair should be elected. The color of a man's hair tion by Fisher. Ables Co. for $1875. and eyes has nothing to do with his business ability or his honesty; neither does his opinions on national politics,

What the country needs is officials of honesty and ability, and the lack of these attributes will not be compensated for by any party label. "May the best men win."

HIGH SHERIFF AND THE LAW.

One of the first things High Sheriff Henry did, when he received the appointment, was to enforce the Sunday law which, under the administration of High Sheriff Brown, had been allowed to sink into a condition of "innocucus desnetude." In his refusal to evade an official duty, High Sheriff Henry will be speeches by several of the public spirited, and who cast their vote largely upon the recommendation of had the approval of Governor Carter. The policy or impolicy of the law was not in question. It was on the statute book, and Mr. Brown, virtually placing and a coffee and sandwich luncheon himself above the Legislature, had failed to enforce it. Mr. Henry took exwere elected. Of these, eighteen were endorsed, and eight were opposed, by actly the opposite view of his official duty, under the oath administered to him, and his fidelity to his obligation led to the modification of the law, which

> These two conflicting views of the enforcement of a plain statutory direction represent two official characters that are essentially different. The man who kept his eath of office in the letter and in the spirit was then endorsed by the public. It is up to the voters to endorse him now at the polls or else sanction the assumption of legislative functions by an executive officer.

The Brown meetings are so small that the machine cannot spare any voters to attend the Home Rule meetings and make Poepoe look like an issue. Hence the ludierous effect of the Star's inflation policy. Though that paper does its best to make the Home Rule candidate appear like a giant, he persists in scuttling under a penwiper and hiding. The Star's Poepoe and the of yellow ants are secured. Bulletin's Birbe are both of a size as political Frankensteins, Delegate Kuhio is reported as saying that, if the straight ticket is elected, he intends to turn Governor Carter down at Washington next winter. That would be an engaging spectacle from a man who has never been able to turn anything up at Washington without the help of the Governor's friends. But themselves to be saddled or straight to note even a pledge of activity on Kuhio's part.

Alex Robertson's excuse for supporting Brown is that rascality is found in the police departments everywhere, and might as well be overlooked here. That sentiment, which was expressed to the Governor, is expected to assist naturally becomes greatly concerned, Alex into Congress.

Brown said to his hearers at a public meeting Wednesday night: "If you can't vote for me I want you to vote for Poepoe." Isn't this another text for the Star on "The Friends of Poepoel"

Here is Wm. Heary, who has had a clean and competent record as High Sheriff, and it is proposed to repudiate him for the sake of vindicating A. M. Brown, who has had neither. Isn't that a remarkable proposition to put before the taxpayers?

The query about Brown is the same as that raised about Croker-"Where did he get it?"

ANIMALS GO ON STRIKE

Even the rabbit is a hardened striker. In rabbit colonies the stronger rabbits do most of the burrowing and as often as perhaps once in two years these become discontented and refuse to work. A species of black ants have little yellow ants which do most of their work for them. Occasionally the yellow species will go on a strike. Their food supply is cut off, but if that does not avail the strikers are attacked or another lot

Both birds and beasts occasionally go on strike, according to observers. A herd of horses will bunch together, neglect their food, become restive, neigh and rub noses when in a field. The outcome is that the herd will not allow attendants. Female birds take tantrums and refuse to do the housework. They desert their nests and leave their eggs to become cold and barren. The male but with the bird and beast creation the male will never attack the female, so there is no remedy. Warblers and starlings are given greatly to these strikes.
